M'LAUGHLIN DENIES COUNTS IN OUSTER ROW

"Political, Personal" Prejudices Charged By Defense.

SEVEN TESTIFY

City Men Used to Repair Home, is Allegation.

Charging "political and personal" prejudices, defense counsel entered a general denial of charges made against Martin T. McLaughlin by Mayor O. Earl Greenawald, who removed him from the office of street commissioner Feb. 3, at the opening of a hearing before the Civil Service commission in the municipal courtroom Wednesday night.

Seven witnesses were called by Solicitor Raymond S. Buzzard, who is prosecuting the case, in an attempt to prove allegations of "inefficient service, neglect of duty, incompetency and misfeasance, malfeasance and nonfeasance in office," filed with the commission by Greenawald. They were Floyd Wilson, Edward Bowersock, Clyde Randolph, Charles Parsons, Thurman Powell, Frank Hogue and Jack Smith, all of whom are now or were previously employed by the street department.

The ouster fight was recessed until 7 tonight after a three-hour session.

Attorney S. W. Crawford and Blaine H. Cochran defended McLaughlin.

Former Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley appeared as adviser for the commission, composed of former Sheriff W. J. Barlow and Harlan Finley, Republicans, and Robert McHenry, Democrat. Barlow presided.

Buzzard Lists Charges

In his opening remarks, Buzzard declared the prosecution expected to establish that McLaughlin failed to "accurately record and keep the number of hours worked each week by the men in his department," the department was not properly organized and employees lost many hours of the city's time awaiting orders, he failed to report for duty on time, used profane and abusive language to the men; used city employees to improve and repair his home, and city trucks and material for his personal benefit, and incurred obligations charged to the city without authority.

Buzzard also charged that "mistakes in the pay of street department employees were frequent occurrences."

Attorney Cochran said:

"We intend to show that McLaughlin was discharged for no good cause, misconduct or failure on his part to perform his duties, but because the job had been promised to another man." He added that "on the contrary, he (McLaughlin) has been an exceptionally good street commissioner and has saved the city many thousands of dollars."

Testify to Mistakes in Pay

Each of the witnesses, who testified that mistakes had been made in his pay, admitted on cross-examination that the errors "had been rectified" upon calling McLaughlin's attention to them. They also said that the ousted street commissioner "repeatedly" came to the barn in Lisbon street from "fifteen minutes to an hour" late, but were unable to testify whether he had been out on some project under construction prior to reporting there.

Charles Parsons, who lives in Pleasant Heights, said that he, Floyd Wilson and Edward Bowersock had testified in December, 1932, in an investigation of a complaint that McLaughlin used city men to improve his home. The al-

Pittsburgh Engineer Warns Regarding Sudden Thaw.

Major W. D. Styer, United States engineer in charge of the Pittsburgh river district, today issued warnings to lock crews and navigation and commercial interests at all points along the Ohio river, declaring that there is danger of high water and damage from ice in the event of a sudden thaw.

Officials at Dam No. 8 and at other locks in the Ohio river have indicated their willingness to give information and aid whenever possible, to persons whose property is in danger. At many locks in the Ohio, Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, supplies of chains and cables have been ordered to be used in tying up boats for protection against flood.

After reaching a minimum of two degrees above zero at Lock No. 8 today at 6 a. m., the temperature began to rise rapidly. Officials at Lock No. 8 said the weather outlook for the next 24 hours is warmer throughout the tri-state area, with rain, probably tonight.

GOVERNMENT OF LERROUX IN SPAIN QUILTS

Resignation of Entire Cabinet Proves Surprise.

FACED BATTLE

Agrarian Group Votes To Oppose Madrid Policies.

By The Associated Press.

MADRID, March 1.—The entire government of Premier Alejandro Lerroux resigned suddenly today.

Reorganization of the ministry had been considered last night by Premier Lerroux after it was announced that two ministers—Diego Martinez Barrios, of the department of the interior, and Minister of the Treasury, Gomez Lara—planned to resign.

However, the resignation of the entire cabinet, reorganized on January 28, came as a surprise move.

When Lerroux went to the private residence of President Niceto Alcala Zamora early today, it was believed he had gone to present the resignations of Martinez Barrios and Lara.

A short time later came the announcement of the complete walk-out.

These two had threatened to quit when the largest minority supporting party, the Catholic Agrarian, action of 117 deputies, reached a decision to oppose government policies.

Man believed this group might withdraw from its stand provided the two ministers stepped out of the government.

It was explained that with Martinez Barrios and Lara out, Agrarian leaders believed they would be able to put through two of their projects—amnesty for certain political prisoners and subsidies for the rural clergy.

By The Associated Press.

MIAMI, Fla., March 1.—Fair weather prevailing after a three day rain, the much delayed Garrera-Loughran world's heavyweight title bout will be offered up to the entertainment of a few thousand faithfuls tonight despite two conflicting attractions—a flower show and a tea dance.

Officials of Madison Square Garden, sponsors of the battle, and the manager of the two fighters went into a huddle this morning, pondered later with the announcement that the elements had improved sufficiently to permit the scrap, first set for February 22, to be held at last.

LEVY ON SALES URGED IN OHIO

Tax Commission Sub-Committee Builds New Program.

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, March 1.—Still clinging to a sales tax estimated to raise $52,000,000 a year, a new sub-committee of the joint state tax commission today set out to build a program for balancing the state's budget in 1935.

One sub-group retired last night after the entire commission rejected all its recommendations, including the sales tax increase, excise taxes on utilities, repeal of all "nuisance" taxes but those on beer and malt, and the Gunsett school bill.

It seemed probable the new group would hold on to the three percent sales levy and the Gunsett school measure. Chairman Paul F. Yoder said that "some kind of a levy on utilities" might also be incorporated.

There was no indication, however, of what the sub-committee might do in the matter of repealing the cosmetic, cigarette, admission and soft drink taxes, or regarding the old sub-group's proposal to level off the tax base on tangible personal property at 40 percent in lieu of the present scale of 50, 70 and 100 percent.

To balance the budget, $53,000,000 must be provided. The rejected increase in the utilities excise tax from 1.35 percent to 3 percent was estimated to raise some $3,000,000. This with the proceeds of the sales tax, would balance the budget, it was claimed.

Of the new revenues $17,000,000 would be distributed to the state's subdivisions to make up for the loss due to the five mill reduction in the rate on real estate. The state would provide $23,000,000 for the state school fund from the sales tax.

The old sub-committee lopped off $8,000,000 from the estimated requirements for 1935 by decreasing that the old age pensions should be financed from revenues from liquor and beer taxes.

The new group, composed of Yoder, Herman L. Vail, of Cleveland and Representative James A. Jones, (R.) of Portage county, hopes to have its recommendations drafted for presentation to the whole group tonight.

JAP TROOPS ON JOB AS MANCHU EMPIRE FORMS

NAMED KANG TEH

50,000 Soldiers Guard Against Attempt To Kill.

BY JAMES A. MILLS, (Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

HSINKING (CHANGCHUN), MANCHUKUO, March 1.—A new dynasty was born today under the protecting guns of more than 50,000 soldiers when Henry Pu-Yi became Kang Teh, emperor of "the great Manchukuo empire."

A bullet proof limousine, made in America, carried him to and from the imperial palace. Barbed wire stockades kept back the throngs. Everywhere were the soldiers—Manchukuoan and Japanese. They formed human walls along the five-mile route from the palace to the "altar of heaven." For every three Manchukuoan soldiers there was one Japanese trooper. Thus did Japan which sponsored the new empire, and Manchukuo itself seek to protect the young emperor from any attempt upon his life.

It was bitter cold—below zero. At the "altar of heaven" the small handful of foreigners—mostly newspapermen—stood in the required evening dress and without hats, literally freezing as they were forced to stand for nearly two hours on the bare earth at the altar.

Machine-like Enthronement

The ceremonies, both secular and religious, lasted less than half an hour, though for the spectators there were added the rigors of long waiting in the severe cold.

History probably will record the enthronement of the young sovereign as the briefest, most perfunctory and most machine-like ever held.

The Japanese army enforced sharp restrictions and regulations to protect the new ruler. Except for a few groups of invited Manchus, Chinese and Japanese (who were carefully herded behind the barbed wire stockades 300 feet from the imperial procession) there were no spectators.

Despite fears that an attempt might be made on the life of this monarch, there were no untoward events, and within four hours after he was carried from the palace in a three-ton armored car to begin the ceremonies, Pu-Yi ascended at noon his carved ebony throne.

Emperor Named "Kang Teh"

Thus, in rites costing the government a million gold dollars to finance, a new empire was created in the ancient domain of the Manchus—with the last of the Manchukuo emperors of China on the throne.

Henceforth, the Japanese-protected Manchurian empire will be known as "Ta Manchukuo" or "The Great Manchukuo Empire."

The 26-year-old emperor, formally

By The Associated Press.

HELSINKI, Finland, March 1.—All 50 of the passengers aboard the Polish steamer Zieszy, dangerously near sinking in violent seas near Macelliot island, were taken off the stricken vessel early today by a salvage ship.

The salvage steamer Juanaekarha, which effected the rescue, had reported hours earlier by wireless that she had reached the neighborhood of the Zieszy, but was unable to pull alongside because of high seas.

SOS calls were flashed from the vessel and rockets were fired when she struck the rocks last night. Later, wireless messages said the Zieszy was in a critical position, a hole in her hull, the en-

CITY IS SHORT $4,000 ON PAY

Elective Officials, Police, Firemen Wait.

For the first time in eight years, elective city officials, policemen and firemen today failed to receive their pay checks on time, owing to the non-payment of real estate taxes at Lisbon, City Auditor Shelton J. Overdorf said. No funds have been received to meet the payroll, amounting to approximately $4,000, Overdorf declared.

While there was no money in the general fund from which the elective aids, police and firemen are paid, Overdorf explained about $2,500 would be issued in checks to water works, street and health department employees from their separate funds. The full pay would amount to about $7,500, he said.

In anticipation of tax collections, council had enacted a January-February appropriation ordinance providing $51,455.

Solicitor Raymond S. Buzzard said the appropriation for the year would be submitted to council for approval before the next city pay becomes due March 15.

LABOR BOARD ASKS ACTION IN STEEL ROW

Dispute Referred To Department Of Justice.

RULING TUESDAY

No Explanation of Delay In Making It Public.

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The national labor board announced today it had unanimously decided to refer the Weirton Steel company case to the department of justice for immediate action.

In making public its decision, the board said the action was decided upon at an all-day executive session last Tuesday. No explanation was given for the delay in making it public.

This is the second time the case had been given to the department of justice.

Action of that body was deferred, however, pending the outcome of efforts to conduct a poll among the Weirton employees, in conformance with an executive order by President Roosevelt, to determine whether a "substantial number" of the employees desired a new election of employee representatives.

No Other Course Open—Wagner

The board said the Weirton company continually had refused to cooperate with it in conducting such an election.

It added the company had refused to furnish identification lists of its employees and had endeavored "in other ways" to hamper the efforts of the board.

In a statement accompanying the decision, Chairman Wagner emphasized that no other course had been open.

Wagner added that Ernest T. Weir, president of the company, had not only refused any cooperation "but made it plain to the board's representatives that he would not deal with any employee representatives if they should be selected at a new election under the board's supervision."

Wagner Bill Hits Company Unions

Abolition of company unions, establishment of a permanent national labor board and denial of the right of direct representation to labor minorities were proposed in a bill introduced today by Senator Wagner, soon after the Weirton decision was announced.

Wagner described the bill in an accompanying statement as designed "to clarify and fortify" the provisions of section 7-A of the recovery act governing the right of workers to collective bargaining and to provide means of enforcing the section through increased powers for the labor board.

"The greatest obstacles to collective bargaining are employer-dominated unions, which have multiplied with amazing rapidity since the enactment of the recovery act," Wagner said. "Such a union makes a sham of equal bargaining power by restricting employee cooperation to a single employee unit at a time when business men are allowed to band together in large groups."

"The bill which I am introducing today forbids any employer to foster or participate in or influence any organization which deals with problems that should be covered by a genuine labor union."

SWEENEY MAY ENTER TICKET

Cleveland Insurgent Gives "Consideration" to Plan of Entering Candidates in the Primaries.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Representative Martin L. Sweeney, insurgent Democrat, is giving "consideration" to the idea of having a group enter a state ticket in the Ohio Democratic primaries.

Primarily, though he is interested in candidates for local offices, he said.

"That's just another story," was his reply to a question concerning reports Raymond Moley, former assistant secretary of state, might lead such a ticket as a candidate for Democratic nomination for governor.

Sweeney added, however, that some of Moley's Cleveland friends are looking Moley for the race. Until a few years ago Moley lived in Cleveland or nearby Berea, but is now in New York, and it is uncertain here whether he could meet residence requirements for an Ohio candidacy.

WEST VIRGINIA STUDENTS AIDED

Needy Youths at University Get $15 a Week From Funeral Relief Funds.

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—The federal emergency relief administration has allotted West Virginia university $3,420 a month for the rest of the university year to be used in giving parttime employment to 228 needy students at an average wage of $15.

A faculty committee composed of Prof. A. J. Dadisman, Miss Ruth Noor, dean of women, Harry E. Stone, dean of men and John E. Grumbine, superintendent of buildings and grounds, has already placed nearly all of the allotted number.

The F. E. R. A. aid is being granted to permit students, who otherwise would have to drop out of school, to remain. Twenty-five per cent of the students receiving aid must be those who were not in school the first semester for financial reasons.

Students are employed at clerical, stenographic, laboratory, and other useful work. A group of six or seven students will be assigned to an inventory of the university library, and two or three others will bind newspapers under the supervision of library assistants, while others have been assigned to the writing of news stories for dissemination over the state.

Tranquility And Virtue

Henry Pu-Yi today became emperor of Manchukuo, or the Great Manchurian empire, under the protecting guns of 50,000 Japanese soldiers.

It is known universally that he is to be a puppet monarch, under the guidance of Japanese politicians. Manchuria, taken from China two years ago, has become comparable in status to a territory of the United States, as far as practical government is concerned. Though legally it is an independent state, its independence is contingent on good behavior.

Pu-Yi's formal title will be Emperor Kang Teh, a title which means, literally translated, emperor of tranquility and virtue. To his subjects, selection of the two ideographs is a good omen. They signify Japanese intentions for a reign of peace and development.

By placing Pu-Yi on the created throne of Manchukuo Japan has posed a nice question for other governments. Implemented with treaties, the nations of Europe cooperating with the United States condemned the seizure of Manchuria. They placed themselves in a position which has been made untenable by Japan's successful prosecution of its Manchurian adventure.

Will they yield to practical considerations or continue to stand by treaties whose violation caused them to threaten to refuse recognition to political situations created by methods of violence? The Japanese are holding Manchuria, with no intention of letting go. Their plans have materialized. With Henry Pu-Yi on the throne there seems nothing to do immediately but to bring about as much peace and tranquility as possible. Having scorned world opinion without disaster, the Japanese have gained a sharp edge of diplomatic advantage.

Heading For a Veto

Congressional romping over what once was hailed gladly as an economy act to save the credit of the United States is the symptom of two chronic democratic ills.

Congressmen threatening to destroy the bill's salutary effect on certain fixed expenditures of government are demonstrating that they are far less intelligent than they should be to represent their constituents. There is only one issue before the people in this year's elections. Its name is recovery. Its symbol is Franklin D. Roosevelt. Representatives and senators who are beckoning to votes by repudiating the principle of economy in fixed expenditures are opposing the President. They are alienating more votes than they are winning.

In addition to being a sign of their stupidity, the horseplay congressmen are indulging in at the expense of the economy act illustrates once more that in this democracy the demands of a minority for special favor are likely to be louder in a congressman's ears than appeals for the general welfare. Passage of the economy act was one of the marvels of the age, because it was accomplished under circumstances which never may be duplicated again. Frightened by realization of emergency, congressmen voted for what they had been told was a bill to benefit the whole country. Those who so voted incurred the wrath of certain minorities. That wrath, long smoldering, is convincing many congressmen that it would be safer in this election year to forget general welfare.

Many of them are blocking the administration's program in assurance that their action will be stopped in time by a presidential veto. These are the worst of the lot. They not only are guilty of catering to that element in a democracy which would sacrifice principle to selfish interest, but they are capable of leaning on Mr. Roosevelt while knifing him in the back.

Compromise

Compromise with organized veterans and their spokesmen on the issue of compensation slashes made by the administration early in its legislative program does not seem inconsistent. Since the time when President Roosevelt gained admiration for safeguarding the government's credit by the national economy act, he has authorized other expenditures of such huge size that compromise in veterans' favor was inevitable.

Perhaps it never was his intention to perpetuate the cuts originally authorized by the national economy act. It is possible that he anticipated just such a process of bargaining as subsequently took place. In the interests of achieving some reduction in the government's fixed expenditures, he may have chosen an arbitrary extreme, expecting to ease away from it gradually as circumstances dictated.

Unfortunately, it is difficult to determine definitely the exact effect of the compromise to which he has agreed. It was some time before authoritative estimates could be made of the original savings effected by the economy act. Frank T. Hines, administrator of veterans' affairs, declared they amounted to $314,000,000. For the fiscal year 1932 the total appropriation for veterans' relief was $987,539,530, including $200,000,000 appropriated for the adjusted service certificate fund. The appropriation for the same purposes in the next fiscal year was $931,025,164, which included only $100,000,000 for the fund.

General Hines estimated that the total cost of the veterans' administration under the new plan would be $581,988,000, including $50,000,000 for the adjusted service certificate fund. It is this figure, $581,988,000, which will be increased by the compromises granted by President Roosevelt. It is impossible to say how much. Between $66,000,000 and $87,000,000 will be added to compensation payrolls, independent of other increases. The principle of economy in administration of veterans' affairs will not be abandoned, but its effect will be curtailed. Once more it has been demonstrated that the United States government, though already the most liberal on earth as regards care of veterans, is not capable of taking an unalterable stand against such a vast and powerful group of pensioners.

Government in Nicaragua

A brief description of government in Nicaragua and one of the reasons it encounters trouble is given in the official report of Augusto C. Sandino's murder. Sandino—the General Sandino of international fame—is said to have been shot by an unidentified member of the Nicaraguan national guard. His brother and two other members of his band are believed to have been killed with him.

It was an ironic culmination of Sandino's years of defiance to the established government of Nicaragua and to the United States, which backed up Nicaraguan authority with its troops. Sandino had surrendered a year ago. He was living with his men on a co-operative farm. When murdered, he was engaged in making arrangements for disarming them, according to the agreement he had reached with the government on the occasion of his voluntary surrender.

The government, with a nice regard for the propriety, regrets the accident deeply. The national guardsman is reprimanded severely, but anonymously, because his identity is not known officially. One wonders what unrel faith took possession of Augusto Sandino to cause him to put his life at the disposition of men who had sought to take it by every possible means for so many years. He, who knew so much about the ways of government in Nicaragua, sacrificed his rebel glamor in death by seeming to trust those in whom he had no reason to place trust. As leader of a revolt, he was a commanding figure. A peaceful victim of an assassin, he is little better than a pitiful political dupe.

The Law

The ruling by the supreme court of Illinois that every Cook county grand jury indictment returned in recent years is illegal is the best news criminals have had in years. It gives them one more loophole through which to escape from justice.

It is difficult to believe that the possible effect of the ruling will be permitted to materialize. To go through the procedure of obtaining new indictments and hold new trials would cost the state a great sum of money. It would throw the courts into confusion for years to come and facilitate the frustration of justice by known criminals.

Nevertheless, the supreme court's ruling suggests a possibility to criminal defenders that they may be expected to seize. Who, one wonders, was served by the court's meticulous interpretation of the letter of the law? The point at issue—whether a grand jury must be composed of 23 veniremen, or whether it is permissible to call 60—is strongly reminiscent of the famous dispute about which end of the egg should be broken first.

The law says 23 veniremen shall be called. In practice, 60 have been called, to insure obtaining a jury. It is a method of justice that is concerned, not justice itself. Yet, justice is threatened because of a fault in the method. It is easy to agree with Mr. Peter Dooley under the circumstances. It was he who remarked what most people have observed silently, that the law can be an ass.

Highlights in Ohio History

The Fremont bodyguard, a cavalry unit formed mostly of Ohio men, the rest from Kentucky, for service in the Civil war was said by Whitelaw Reid in his "Ohio in the War" to be "without question one of the finest bodies of cavalry ever seen in the United States service." It distinguished itself in the battle of Springfield, Mo., and at the same time laid the ground for its dissolution. On reaching St. Louis from the scene of the victory, the guard was met with an order for disbandment. No reason was given but it was suggested that it was because one of their shouts in the assault at Springfield was "Fremont and Union" and Secretary of War Stanton looked upon the guard as politically inclined to displace Lincoln with Fremont, the first candidate of the Republican party for the presidency.

Today's News Review

Long Distance Eye
News that civilized men, if there were any, would call the only important news, concerns the 200-inch telescope mirror, for which the mould is prepared in the glass works at Corning, N. Y.

This gigantic scientific "eye," seventeen feet wide, will take man's sight and intellect into space four times farther than they have ever before travelled.

If the pouring of molten borosilicate glass, slow polishing and shaping are successful, the $6,000,000 telescope, twice the size of any now existing, will enable men to look at objects one thousand million light years distant from this planet, which means that they will not be able to see nebulae "outside universes" from which light started traveling toward this spot one thousand billion years ago, traveling at the rate of 186,000 miles a second.

Multiply the number of seconds in one year by 186,000, multiply the result by one thousand million, and you will know how many miles into space this great "eye" will take the minds and investigations of men.

It will take 200,000 pounds of glass to make this giant mirror, ten hours to pour the molten glass, ten months for it to cool—slow cooling is essential—then months of grinding and shaping. The International Education Board has given the six million to make the great experiment in cosmic exploration.

That seems to be a "large sum," but this country gave ten thousand million, which it won't get back, to help foreigners murder each other, and nearly all thought it was acting patriotically and reasonably.

How Many Sleep, Forgotten

What we actually see impresses us. A young woman, in Chicago, twenty-six years old, has just finished her second year in a deep sleep, puzzling doctors, baffling her science. Everybody is interested in that, wonders what the girl's spirit does through the long sleeping hours, whether it is permitted to wander away.

In graveyards are millions that have slept for generations, and everywhere beneath the sod endless other millions are sleeping, never to wake on this earth. No body wonders about that, everybody takes it for granted.

You will hear a thousand men discuss the coming Camera fight for one that discusses immortality and what happens after the mourners have gone home.

Kang Teh's Era

Pu-Yi, Chinese prince, once heir to the imperial throne of China, emerged from the "period of purification" as "Emperor Kang Teh of Manchukuo." Confucius says "tranquility and virtue" are necessary in a sovereign, and Pu-Yi's new name, "Kang Teh," means tranquility and virtue.

The years to come in Manchukuo, where Pu-Yi's Manchurian ancestors ruled before they became emperors of China, will be called Kang Teh.

How long will it last? How long will the able Japanese believe it necessary or worth while to keep up the pretense of independent rule in Manchukuo?

It is interesting to see the power of Japan demonstrated in her ability to set up an emperor on what was Chinese territory, on the edge of angry Russia.

That has not been done since Napoleon made kings of his relatives, dukes and princes of "nobodies," or at least, not since Woodrow Wilson set up various little countries in Europe, carving up old ones. (Copyright, 1934, King Features Synd., Inc.)

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK, March 1—No area is more distinct with literary countenances than Gramercy Park. In dark-paneled old homes with basement dining rooms and open fires are some of the finest libraries in town. And because of The Players it attracts leading authors of the day.

In a brief letter there one may often see Will Irwin, Isaac Marcossen, Don Marquis, Christopher Morley, Sinclair Lewis and others. Gravity hangs heavy over Gramercy and is not even purged by the shouts of children in the high fenced enclosure that is the park.

Ordinary folk who sweep out of the surrounding clamor into Gramercy slow into a doleful rosary of thought. It is hallowed ground. Even the flock of beggars that haunt it seem especially courteous. And domestic clatter diminishes to restful lullaby.

Men from many blocks away drift there late at night for the last pipe and a bit of introspection. It is where Oliver Herford sketched many of his famous cats. It is where Robert Holliday was inspired to turn out the best of his whimsical essays and A. E. Thomas his best plays.

Radio hurdles become increasingly difficult. Unseasoned talent is almost universally barred. The demand is for "names." Potential Amos and Andys and Tony Woneses get no further than the outer gate. They will continue, it is said, until the oversupply of experienced artists are assimilated.

And I wonder how many New Yorkers have made after dark excursions to the retail radio stores that erupt around Washington and Chambers streets? Sidewalks overflow with cast-off bargains. Bright lit windows are placarded with cut-price offerings of all description and with a hundred and one loud speakers going full tilt the section is violent bedlam. Most radios are sold after working hours.

Changing times have made professional life for musical comedy juveniles more intricate than ever. The type of play exploiting the handsome naval lieutenant with toothy smile who captivates all the ladies has gone into temporary retirement. Oscar Shaw is master of ceremony in a smart cafe of Park avenue. Such heart flutters as Paul Frawley, Wellington Cross, John Steele, Alexander Gray, Irving Fisher, Bernard Granville and others have either gone into cafe work, business or the movies.

Out of the old guard that once made the mellow New Amsterdam the hub of theatrical life only Leonard Bergman remains. Ziegfeld, Erlanger, Dillingham and dozens of others are gone. The lobby in daytime is deserted, bleak. Once it uncorked the smartest witwits of the day. Renold Wolf was always a dropper in. As were Blide Dudley, Leo Marsh, Ward Morehouse and other commentators of the Rialto scene. It stiffened into austerity only when Erlanger—the Little Napoleon—his cap abashed, stepped from his motor and waddled through. He spoke to no one, the last of the theatrical autocrats. And the only one who could make even Ziegfeld slide down the brass pole to do his bidding. (Copyright, 1934, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

SCOTT'S SCRAPBOOK By R. J. Scott

Behind The News In Washington And Wall Street

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, March 1—There is weeping at the state and commerce departments of Secretaries Hall and Roper.

Gorge N. Peek is back on top again.

The life of a New Dealer is a hard one—up today and down tomorrow. Mr. Peek is a shining example.

He was up two weeks ago when he sold the President the great idea of using government money to finance exports. Thereafter he was down until last Tuesday because the President confined Mr. Peek's grand scheme to Russia alone.

Tuesday the President announced that the scheme would not be confined only to Russia after all. Cuba will be in on it. So will other nations which want to borrow money to buy goods here.

Mr. Peek's charm may explain partially his new rise to fame and power, but there are indications he used something more than charm this time.

No one will believe it, but the man who helped him was his old enemy, Prof. Tugwell.

Insiders say Prof. Tugwell is the smartest manipulator in the inner circle. Mr. Peek found that out when Prof. Tugwell slipped roller skates under him and pushed him gently out of the agricultural adjustment administration some months back.

That is probably why Mr. Peek went to Prof. Tugwell with his troubles when the White House was turning against his export idea. Apparently, Mr. Peek convinced Prof. Tugwell that two such clever boys as they should work together and not against each other.

Mr. Peek had the additional convincing argument that he could sell a lot of surplus agricultural products abroad if he loaned government money to do it.

At any rate Messrs. Peek and Tugwell were suspiciously friendly at that private White House gathering on foreign trade last Monday. They agreed on everything and got all Mr. Peek wanted.

Afterward the White House issued on behalf of Mr. Peek a statement which one disinterested insider described as "a modern duplicate of Washington's farewell address."

One section was headed: "To Agriculture," another "To Industry," the third "To the Public." Under each heading Mr. Peek told each particular class what he was going to do for it in no uncertain terms.

It was bitter gall to the state and commerce department people, especially the paragraph in which Mr. Peek said he would coordinate all their trade business under himself.

The state and commerce boys have felt that it might be unpopu- lar to lend more money abroad before we collect what they owe us now.

The Peek people have figured a way around that objection. They are not going to lend money abroad. Not one dollar will ever leave these shores. They are merely going to give the money to domestic exporters to take the I. O. U. of the foreign buyer.

That is not exactly a new scheme. It is the same method we used to insure some of the war debts. Great Britain, France, et al. wanted food and manufacturing products so we financed the purchase, taking their I. O. U.'s, which we still have.

Nevertheless, the Peek-Tugwell people appear to be confident that it will work out differently this time and be a boon to agriculture. It should bring an immediate improvement in the price of export- able farm commodities such as wheat. The wheat farmers have needed help lately.

The Sunlit Road

"As dew to the blooms, and lead to the bee, as scent to the rose, are these memories to me."

TOM T. JONES

In 1906, when the St. Stephen's Episcopal church, was in the 10th year of its existence, the last of the congregation issued a calendar on neat cardboards which were attached together by ribbon with a cover, the whole making for an appealing departure. It now qualifies as a document of historical worth in that each one of the pages carried above the numbered days comprising it scenes of structures, events and landscape in and about East Liverpool. It is quite possible that several homes of the city have some of these calendars in preservation.

The cover of this unique calendar of a former day that will be of interest in 1934, since during it will be observed the 100th anniversary of the erection of the first church in East Liverpool in 1834 by the denomination, carries a reproduction of the Memorial chapel that about this time was erected in Riverview cemetery on St. Clair avenue. This reproduction reveals a flag pole inserted in the ground just west of the chapel from where a large flag was unfurled upon the day of the taking of the picture. The two cannon that yet are situated about it were in their positions. It is possible to read the inscription in the picture that is carved above its doorway which opens to the south: "Honor to the Nation's Defenders." At the time the erection of this chapel was one of the marked accomplishments of the early years following the end of the Civil War. Then the spirit that enabled the Civil war to be carried to its logical conclusion yet obtained in generous qualities for a large number of the veterans of this great conflict between the states were then living and in the prime of their manhood.

The scene reproduced over the February page of the calendar was that of the actual burning of the Specialty Glass company, which commonly was known as the "glass factory," just off the present Patterson field in the West End. This fire occurred in February of 1898. At the time a great flood of water had filled the basin about the plant from the Ohio river. The plant took fire about noon on a day of this flood. It was impossible for the firemen of the day to reach it. Pictures were thus taken of it as it went up in flames. The engine house of its north side and the large stack which stood until the Lincoln highway day of 1914 when it was pulled down by a locomotive engine while throngs watched the performance is visible in the picture on this old calendar.

The March page carries a picture of the Central school building, then also the high school of the city. It was taken from a point east of the structure and gives a fine view of its front and eastern ends.

The East Liverpool suspension bridge, that leading to Chester and other of the then recent accomplishments of the locality, headed the April page of the calendar. A bit of old waterworks structure can be noted in it as well as boats lying under it and a part of the C. C. Thompson pottery buildings.

The page for May reproduces again the old log structure which many of the older residents will recall as "The Hermit." It was erected along a roadway with a bridge just without the high, partly by rail, fence about the two-room building from a doorway of which the aged and whiskered occupant could be observed as he stood and watched the camera man at work.

Babb's Island with Line Island in the distance and a section of the high West Virginia hills in the foreground ever an engaging scene, constitutes the reproduction on the June page of this long-ago East Liverpool arranged calendar.

A scene in Rock Springs park is that noted on the page for July which reveals no walks, simply trees, rocks and shrubbery. That for August is a reproduction of the initial Jethro bridge upon its iron girders. It includes also a view of the great bend in the Ohio river.

Park Scene Shown

A three-story building upon a creek that graduates in one end to two stories and having doors over each other on all its floors together with numerous windows on all sides makes the picture utilized for the month of September in this calendar. It was entitled, "The Ruins of a Cotton Mill." A man stood in each of the open doors upon its second and third floors.

The picture included for the month of October is that noted as "The Historical Rock in Thompson Park." This is the one that yet is located just off the spring situated in this tract of land presented to the city of East Liverpool by the late William L. Thompson. No roadways or paths are to be seen about this huge stone, simply tall, slender trees and unleafed saplings.

A reproduction of bit of roadway near East Liverpool that is designated as much used for driving in those days is shown for the November picture of the calendar. That for December is a section of a busy street in the business district of East Liverpool. It is that at Fifth and Market streets. The old brick building is discernable with a sign stretched over the Fifth street pavement off the Brooks building. It noted, "Charles Craig, Drugs." Between the brick and the then Thompson building in East Fifth street, moving westward, may be seen a load of hay, the wagon being drawn by three horses, one white.

LEGAL BETTING AID TO RACING

Southwestern Circuit Places Stamp Of Approval on Pari-Mutuel Plan For 1934.

By The Associated Press.
LEBANON, O., March 1.—Hearing that legalized betting has helped at Dayton and Toledo tracks, the Southwestern circuit now puts its stamp of approval on pari-mutuel betting for the 1934 season.

The betting system was a "source of interest and a money-maker for the fair" at Toledo, Guy Reeder of that city told the group last night. The Montgomery county fair and the Dayton race meeting furnished similar sentiment.

The circuit chose Greenville for the 1935 meeting and elected David Bishop, of Lebanon, president to succeed Judge I. L. Holderman, of Dayton.

MUST LIST AAA BENEFITS
COLUMBUS, O., March 1.—Rental or benefit payments received under the agricultural adjustment act must be listed by farmers as taxable income.

An opinion to this effect was given by Guy T. Holvering, commissioner of internal revenue, in response to numerous queries from farmers.

Double Nine Dominoes, Silk Underwear Banned in Prison

Tin, Glass Containers, Which Might be Made Into Weapons, Prohibited at Moundsville.

Many things ordinarily are denied prison convicts, but the list has been lengthened at the West Virginia penitentiary at Moundsville by the warden, Dr. Clifton F. McClintic.

A new list of the forbidden articles, just promulgated by the warden, includes articles that might be converted into weapons, be used for a means of escape or clog the prison sewerage system.

Unshelled nuts come under the last named class. Double-nine dominoes are banned for two reasons. The larger ones are suitable for smuggling in saws and they may also be used more readily for gambling.

Pepper is denied, excepting such as the prison cooks may put on food. The prison administration does not want to take chances with a handful of the hot seasoning being thrown into guards' eyes.

Leather belts and silk rayon underwear are out. The former could be used in scaling walls and the latter does not stencil easily. All underclothing must be marked with the number of the prisoner to whom it is issued.

All tin and glass containers are prohibited because of the danger that fragments of them may be used as weapons.

CHESTER 1933 TAX APPROVED

State O. K.'s Municipal Levies; Forms Are Ordered.

Chester's 1933 city tax levies have been approved by the state tax commission and tax collection forms ordered. Hancock County Clerk Don G. Stewart said today.

The revised rates were submitted last week after the state commission failed to approve the original estimates.

Following information that the original rates had failed to meet the state tax commission's approval, Wilson conferred with Stewart and the necessary changes were made. Wilson had been authorized by council to act, making a special meeting unnecessary.

The revised levies include excess levies of .75 cents on each $100 valuation for class one; 1.5 cents for class two, and three cents for class four.

Chester property owners will pay total levies, including city, county, school and state rates, as follows: First class, 48.585 cents on each $100 valuation; second class, $1.095, and fourth class, $2.09.

Stewart said it would be impossible to begin collection of taxes in Hancock county by March 15, the date originally set, but that collection would begin later in March.

CERAMIC

"Dark Hazard," the first National picture with Edward G. Robinson in the stellar role which comes to the Ceramic theater today for the first time shows dog racing on the screen as the background for a most unusual dramatic picture.

The theme of the story deals with a man's mad passion for gambling which costs him love and home. Robinson, as the inveterate but well meaning gambler will bet on any kind of a game, but his chief weakness is for greyhound racing.

W. R. Burnett, author of "Little Caesar," in which Robinson created such a sensation a few seasons ago, also wrote the best selling novel "Dark Hazard" from which the picture has been adapted.

Genevieve Tobin has the leading feminine role as the unhappy wife of a gambler while others in the cast include Glenda Farrell, who portrays the happy-go-lucky former flame of Robinson; Robert Barrat, Gordon Westcott, Robert Cavanaugh, George Meeker and Henry B. Walthall.

COLUMBIA

"Search for Beauty," the picture for which the Paramount studios conducted an international contest to find the fifteen most perfect women and the fifteen most perfect men in all English-speaking countries throughout the world, will open Friday at the Columbia theater.

Two shrewd money-mad promoters are no sooner released from prison than they start new rackets connected with the Olympic games. Two popular champions, Ida Lupino, diver, and Crabbe, swimmer, are singled out as victims for the crooked scheme.

The two young people are soon interested in a health magazine and health farm idea and unwittingly become aides for the promoters.

Acting as the front for the crooks they meet various problems, and it isn't until they get wise to their position, outsmart the crooks, and turn an otherwise crooked deal into an honest endeavor that they fall in love.

STATE

America's great ocean-to-ocean expanse with its ribbon of roadways as a locale forms the theme for Universal's "Cross Country Cruise," starring Lew Ayres with June Knight, Alice White and Alan Dinehart, at the State theater.

It is a story of mile-a-minute action aboard a transcontinental bus plying between New York and San Francisco.

Produced in a unique manner, the story deals, principally, with the lives of five travelers. Norman, a rich play-boy; Sue, a beautiful passenger; Steve, his suspicious wife Nita, and May, a choline. How Sue eventually "gets her man," and how Norman clears Sue in the tragic death of Nita and recues his love from certain doom at the hands of the despicable Steve is logically revealed.

Spiced with comedy and drama which offers a new slant in screen fare, "Cross Country Cruise" includes a capable cast such as Minna Gombell, Eugene Pallette, Robert McWade, Henry Armetta, Arthur Vinton, Robert Allen and others.

Let's Imagine

That we are sitting around the fireplace, having a heart to heart talk about the future of your wife and little ones. With simple, whole-hearted faith THEY DEPEND UPON YOU. You say that you cannot afford to protect them because your income has been reduced, and that you are worried about meeting your expenses. Well then, you have a partial idea of how they will feel if their income is stopped forever, yet your worry is as nothing, because you know your income will soon return.

The Northwestern's New Family Income Contract is just for men like you—a large amount of protection for a very low deposit during the next 10, 15 or 20 years, (until your income is increased) long enough to raise your youngest child, or this protection can be continued for your lifetime, and you can provide a retirement income for your old age.

Think of it, $100.00 a month for the lifetime of your family, if you die, and $100.00 a month for yourself when you are old, and all for a daily saving of about $1.00, depending upon your age.

To them, you are the biggest and best man they will ever know and, with simple whole-hearted faith, they are depending upon you, and you will not fail them, but today will be tomorrow to find if you can secure their protection—tomorrow may be too late.

No other excuse would ever keep from their loyal hearts the lurking thoughts that, "Father could have cared for us if he had really tried, and we would have helped had we known."

SEEKS SPEED IN RATE CASES

Utilities Commission To Cut Delays In Decisions.

By The Associated Press. COLUMBUS, O., March 1.—Rules intended to speed the final determination of utility rate litigation were approved today by the state utilities commission.

The new rules will be applicable to all future cases before the commission and as far as possible in any pending litigations. The three members of the commission, Chairman E. J. Hoppie and Commissioners Charles F. Schaber and Frank W. Geiger joined in forming the regulations.

Testimony Must Be Written. Expert witnesses appearing in direct examination will be required to submit their entire testimony, exhibits and qualifications in a bound written volume at least 10 days before they are to be called. The evidence will go directly to the commission and the counsel for the opposing side so that cross-examination may be undertaken immediately after the witness is sworn.

Cross-examination, to be conducted before the commission, will be placed on the same volume as the direct testimony thus giving the commission a clear picture of the entire testimony of each witness. Rebuttal evidence of either side in the litigation will be placed in the record of the commission in the same manner.

General rules of the commission would require trial of an appeal from a state ordinance within six months.

Must Use Diligence. "If either side," the order says, "in the judgment of the commission, fails to use due diligence in the preparation for or in the conduct of the hearings, the commission may dismiss the appeal, sustain the appellant, or find for the appellee, or take such other action as in the judgment of the commission may be justified."

The rules further would require that a utility submit within 90 days after filing the appeal, an inventory of property involved to the other side for checking. Thirty days later the city would be required to file a list of the points on which they agree and those in dispute.

In the preamble to the rules, the commission said it desired "to expedite the hearing and disposition of such cases, and to avoid the long delays heretofore experienced, and to lessen the costs of such proceedings."

RESTRICT NEWS IN BROADCASTS

New System of Flashes Is Adopted by Publishers, Press Associations, Radio Stations.

By The Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—A new system of news broadcasting, designed to give radio stations the benefit of a carefully selected and edited resume of the events of the day and at the same time to protect newspapers from unauthorized use of their news, became effective throughout the United States today.

The plan, worked out by publishers, representatives of press associations and of broadcasting organizations, calls for two five-minute news broadcasts. Not earlier than 9:30 a. m. and 9 p. m., standard time in the city in which the broadcasting station is located. Each broadcast will be for a period of five minutes and will consist of the cream of the news gathered by The Associated Press, The press associations, and the three largest radio stations.

SOCIAL AFFAIRS

East Liverpool... Wellsville... Chester... Newell

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Mary Whitehill of Kenmore, Pa., back of Chester, and Joseph Harper Andrews of Andrews Place. The ceremony took place in the First United Presbyterian church of Beaver, Pa., with Rev. Dr. Fulton officiating. The attendants included Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Andrews, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception was held Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Willis Gaston, Andrews Place, sister and brother-in-law of the bridegroom, with his other sisters, Neeldames J. W. Manor and W. J. Curry associate hostesses. Covers were arranged for 25 guests.

The bride is a graduate of the Slippery Rock Normal school and for several years has been a teacher in the Horace Mann school. The bridegroom is a graduate of the Mt. Hope academy, Rogers and Chester Military school of Philadelphia, Pa.

Miss Kathryn Phelps, daughter of J. P. Phelps of Coshocton, became the bride of James Deveto, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Deveto of Caldwell, N. J., Wednesday afternoon in the Methodist Protestant church with Rev. J. F. Dimitt officiating.

The attendants included Miss Pauline Osborne and James Wilson of East Liverpool.

The bride was gown in blue Russian crepe and her corsage was of roses and sweetpeas. The maid and white predominated with a

"Two things I wanted—

"...more strength and a clear skin."

It is well to remember that a probable reason why you do not have red lips, rosy cheeks, a clear skin, good health, energy and cheerfulness is that your blood is in a run-down condition. Lack of hemo-globin, the red-coloring of the blood, may also cause a weakened condition of the body... loss of strength... poor appetite.

Neglect of diet, worry, overwork, colds or sickness, frequently break down and retard the natural development of the red-blood-cells and their oxygen-carrying hemo-globin.

Why not set in motion the rebuilding of these precious blood-cells instead of procrastinating and sacrificing your appearance and the feeling of being well and fit?

If your condition suggests a tonic of this kind, try S.S.S. It is not just a so-called tonic but a tonic specially designed to stimulate gastric secretions, and also having the mineral elements so very, very necessary in rebuilding the oxygen-carrying hemo-globin of the blood. Unless your case is exceptional, you should soon notice a pick-up in your appetite... your color and skin should improve with increased strength and energy.

S.S.S. is truly a blood and body tonic. Its value has been proven by generations of use, as well as by modern scientific appraisal.

You will find S.S.S. at all drug stores in two sizes... the larger is more economical. @ T&S.S.S. Co.

POTTERS END TOURNAMENT DRILLS TODAY

Stubbers, Dixonmen Favored

Local Coach Expects Stiff Scrap From Bellaire Team.

By ROBERT ELLIOTT, Sports Editor, The Review.
Tom Dixon's East Liverpool high school basketball team today winds up its drills for the Steubenville sectional scholastic tournament in which eight quintets will compete Friday night and Saturday afternoon and night.

The Potters have been going through only mild workouts all week, Dixon believing his charges deserved a rest after finishing their gruelling 18-game schedule which ended last Saturday night. Winning 15 of the 18 games was quite a strain on the Blue and White machine and a rest from strenuous drills probably won't hurt the players a bit.

Defending Champs
Dixon has not yet settled on the 10 players who will compose the Potter squad for the Steubenville tournament. Stewart, Booth, Neselrode, Laughlin, John Mackey, Dietz and Johnson are certain to make the trip it was believed. The remaining three will be chosen from Porter, Mackey, Stuten, Hughes, Zollinger and Blatchford. The Ceramists are defending champions at Steubenville, having played sensational ball in last year's sectional tournament to walk away with top honors. This availed the Potters little, however, at Dennison where they were eliminated by a vastly underrated Chubbville quintet.

East Liverpool and Steubenville are rather heavy favorites to meet in the finals of the sectional tournament and if they do clash Saturday night, the Grant junior high gym will be filled as it never has been filled before.

Bengals Favored
The opening fray at Steubenville pits "Punkie" Cartledge's Stubbers against Toronto at 4:30 p. m. The Stubbers are favored by at least a 10-point margin. At 7:30 p. m. Wells-ville tangles with Bridgeport and the Columbiana county quintet is the public choice. Bridgeport will probably encounter plenty of trouble in halting Bill Connell and Roy Jones, the flashy Bengal point set.

East Liverpool mixes with Bellaire at 8:30 and Coach Dixon anticipates a tough scrap. Bellaire came to the Steubenville sectional last year with one of its strongest quintets, only to be buried under a lopsided score by the Potters. The down-river lads will be out for revenge in copious quantities tomorrow night.

The final Friday night scrap at 9:30 pits Martins Ferry against Tiltonville and about anything can happen.

The four Friday winners all qualify for the district tournament at Dennison next week, regardless of the outcome of the Saturday games at Steubenville.

Capable Officials
Tournament Manager Frank McGuire of Toronto revealed today that Earl D. Gross of New Philadelphia and Jack Norris of Wheeling, two excellent officials have been procured to handle the games. Gross has worked numerous district events in Ohio and has also officiated in the state tournament at Columbus.

Norris has been in the Ohio valley only two years, but has had plenty of experience. He has officiated at the Indiana state scholastic tournament in three of the last five years. Some of the big college games he has handled are Purdue-Indiana, Northwestern-Minnesota, Notre Dame-Butler, Butler-Alabama, Marquette-Detroit.

TENNIS QUEENS MAY JOIN PROS

Although Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, regarded as the world's greatest woman tennis player, denies she intends going over to commercial tennis, rumor persists that she will do so at the close of the 1934 season, during which she hopes to settle that old score with Helen Jacobs. The latter, too, it is said, will begin to cash in on her skill in 1935. Fred Perry, English star, is another who plans to go "pro."

Salem In 23-to-19 Victory

Quakers Advance To Third Round Of Tournament.

Herb Brown's Salem quintet, playing "under wraps," advanced to the third round of the Northeastern Ohio sectional basketball tournament at Youngstown East Wednesday night by downing Campbell Memorial, 23-to-19.

In other games last night, Hubbard trounced Warren, 31-17; Youngstown Chaney upset Boardman, 37-27; and Scienceville rode roughshod over Struthers, 35-to-18.

Tonight, Phil Blikie's Lisbon high quintet makes its tournament debut by clashing with Newton Falls at 7 in the first of a four-game program. Other tilts tonight are Youngstown South vs. Brookfield, Sebring vs. Girard and Niles vs. Youngstown Rayen.

Salem plays its next game Friday night at 7, being booked to meet Chaney. If they beat Chaney, the Quakers move into the semifinals where they meet the winner of the Scienceville-Hubbard fray, also booked for Friday night.

Campbell was never very far behind Salem Wednesday night, but the Quakers had things under control all the way, leading 10-7 at the first period, 14-9 at half-time and 20-18 at the end of the third quarter.

Wayne Sidingar again paced the Quakers with four field goals. Rudolph starred for Campbell by sinking six field goals and a free throw.

The lineups:	Salem	G. F.	Campbell	G. F.
Kaecher	2	0	Strak	0

KENIA MAY GET LANDING FIELD

KENIA, Feb. 26.—This city may have an opportunity to lease a landing field, improve it with CWA funds at an expenditure of $20,000 and establish a municipal airport here.

Capt. Fred Smith, state aeronautical director, who flew to Xenia from Columbus and made a ground and aerial survey of four possible sites, said state engineers will shortly make more extensive survey. The airport would serve as an emergency landing field for Patterson and Wright Fields, near Fairfield, there being no airport located between Fairfield and Columbus.

Swim Renaissance Needed If U. S. Is to Regain Title

EVANSTON, Ill.—If the United States ever hopes to wrest the Olympic swimming supremacy from Japan, says Coach Tom Robinson of Northwestern university, a swimming renaissance is needed in America.

And he should know. For 25 years he has instructed Northwestern's swimming teams, and seven of his proteges have won place on American Olympic teams.

Fifteen of his teams have won Big Ten championships.

"It isn't true that the Japanese have a new crawl stroke which enabled them to defeat us in the 1932 games," he said. "They do have a highly stepped up stroke, but otherwise they have copied the style of Johnny Weissmuller, whom they studied when he made a tour of that country several years ago."

Coach Robinson said a talent for seeking and mastering the very best technique and a strong emotional drive brought the Japanese to the top in the swimming world.

"Our only hope of regaining the world title is by adopting similar tactics," he added.

Among Coach Robinson's Olympic swimmers have been Kenneth Huszagh in 1912; Dick Howell, Ralph Breyer, Bob Skelton and Miss Sybil Bauer in 1924; Wally Colbath in 1928, and Al Schwartz in 1932.

Of these the veteran mentor considers Schwartz the greatest swimmer Northwestern has yet produced. He holds five of the 17 records held by Northwestern teams, and in addition swam as anchor man on six record-holding relay teams.

Other records annexed by Northwestern teams trained by Robinson include the world mark of 1:16 for the 100-yard relay made in 1932; nine national intercollegiate records, and seven Big Ten marks.

Coach Robinson estimates he has taught 50,000 persons how to swim, and as a result he firmly believes everybody can learn.

Aside from student classes he devotes part of his time to townspeople and says upwards of 100,000 have taken lessons from him, ranging from "dog paddlers" to embryo champions.

In the immediate future Coach Robinson plans to develop an intramural program until he has three squads in addition to the varsity.

By The Associated Press.

Ponzi, runner-up to Rudolph last December, decisively defeated the defender in the first match of the sort played in several years. The three-day encounter, completed last night, saw Ponzi set a new high record for challenge matches, 153 and average 11.88 points over the 64 innings.

Columbiana, champions of this week at Kent, the winner at Kent in the Jefferson county eliminations, continue their drives toward statewide Class "B" recognition this week-end, when they compete in sectional tournaments at McDonald and Dover, respectively.

Columbiana plays its first sectional game tonight at McDonald, being scheduled to face the winner of the Gustavus-Liberty fray, played Wednesday night, at 7. If victorious tonight Columbiana will tackle the survivor of games involving Canfield, McDonald and Mecca on Friday night.

Twelve teams are participating in the McDonald event, three of which will be eligible to compete

Advance Sale Of $30,000

Continued Rain And Wind Expected Today.

By The Associated Press.
MIAMI, Fla., March 1.—With one decision already to his credit over a fistie affair that not even the elements seem to want, old man weather blasted around again today in a belligerent mood, threatening to force another postponement of the 15-round heavyweight championship bout between Primo Carnera and Tommy Loughran.

Called off yesterday by a renewed outburst of tropical storms, the fight was re-scheduled tentatively for tonight but only the most optimistic expected the weather to clear and the arena to dry out sufficiently for the show to go on.

Today's forecast was for continued winds and rain, with a similar outlook for Friday.

Decision was expected to be reached this morning to set the fight back to Friday night in the hopes that the sun would cooperate in drying out the arena.

The understanding is that the garden will break even if the fight draws as much as $50,000 in net receipts, owing to the fact the rival gladiators are working strictly on a percentage basis. Up to last night the actual cash advance sale was less than $30,000 with tentative reservations for perhaps $15,000 more.

Cagers Start Drive For Title

Marietta Conceded Best Chance In Early Dope.

COLUMBUS, O., March 1.—Today marked the beginning of the glorious end of the 1934 basketball season for high school quintets aiming at the state title, competition for which begins here March 15.

A week ago there were 12,000 school-boy players in the Class A and Class B races. The first eliminations cut that number to 6,000, and sectional tournaments today began to slash heavily into that figure so that by next week-end only 150 teams will be left to fight it out in district meets.

Eight Class A teams and eight Class B outfits will emerge from the district tilts, headed for the playoffs at the capital.

The sectional tournament eliminations are being held in 29 Ohio cities.

Marietta, runner-up in last year's Class A clashes, is conceded the best chance of returning to the playoffs.

Lover's championship five has faltered in the stretch and it is doubtful whether it reaches the state playoff.

PAUL DERRINGER READY TO SIGN

TAMPA, Fla., March 1.—After observing the Cincinnati Reds in an enthusiastic workout, Pitcher Paul Derringer, one of the principal holdouts, indicated that he is ready to sign his contract.

Two workouts were on the program again, but Manager Bob O'Farrell plans to cut them to one beginning tomorrow. The activities so far have comprised a jog around the half-mile track, 50 minutes of limbering up and then pepper games and a little fungo hitting.

Schmidt Expected to Sign As Ohio State Grid Coach Today

University Athletic Board to Meet at Noon To Act on Successor to Willaman.

By The Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, O., March 1.—Francis A. Schmidt, who chalked up an outstanding record as football and basketball coach at Texas Christian university, was here today, and the Ohio State university athletic board had a meeting scheduled at noon.

On those facts and on the reputation Schmidt received when he descended on Columbus last night were hinged stories that the Buckeye institution apparently has the head football coach it has been seeking since Sam Willaman resigned to go to Western Reserve at Cleveland.

L. W. St. John, Ohio State's athletic director, was to confer first with an advisory committee designed to help him select the Moses intended to lead the Buckeye tribe through the western conference wilderness, including Michigan.

Other Candidates
Only the fact that two members of the athletic board felt they owed it to two other candidates—so far unidentified—to talk over the situation with them first may stand in the way of announcement today of Schmidt's choice for post, some observers said.

And if anything looked like an omen, it was a picture of Schmidt, Ernie Godfrey and Floyd Stahl, assistant Ohio State coaches, down on the floor of a hotel parlor, tracing out offensive and defensive football plays.

In a football way this is what Schmidt has done: He was graduated from the University of Nebraska college of law, in 1915, he went to the University of Tulsa where in five years his teams won three championships, losing one game in four seasons.

From 1922 to 1928 he coached football and basketball at the University of Arkansas.

Texas Christian signed him in 1929. In five years his football teams there won two Southwest conference championships, in 1929 and 1932, and tied for the title last year. In that period his gridiron machines lost only five conference games and one non-conference contest.

Wing Back Devotee
His best success, Schmidt said, has been with single and double wing back formations and with use of the short punt formation. He is a war veteran, 45, married and of the Presbyterian faith.

Titular Claims Are Made

Xavier Quint, Beaten Only by Notre Dame, Strong.

By The Associated Press.
Xavier university was prepared to back up a claim today that it is the best collegiate basketball quintet in the state.

Fresh from a 47 to 38 victory over Wittenberg, which ranks fourth place in the Buckeye association, the Cincinnati school came through the season with only one defeat, a 25 to 10 licking at the hands of the stellar Notre Dame squad.

Coach Joe Meyer went so far as to say that if any challengers could present a record of not having been beaten by any Ohio team, he'd be willing to pit his boys against them.

Ashland and Muskingum journeyed to Coshocton to play a benefit Ohio conference tilt for the high school basketball team of Coshocton. Ashland won 41 to 36, surging up strong in the last three minutes.

Ohio Northern and Otterbein closed their Ohio conference seasons with the Polar Bears on the winning end 35 to 24. Bowling Green ended its season with a 38 to 29 victory over City College of Detroit.

Findlay college bowed to Ohio College of Chiropractic in an overtime game, the foot doctors winning 26 to 25.

BLOND GODDESS

A New Serial by Herbert Jensen

SYNOPSIS: After a motor accident, Frank Grahame has come to the rescue of Janice, a movie star. She refuses to countenance Frank's belief that the accident may have been planned by a man named Ortega, and Spin Winslow, fellow aviator and friend of Frank's, believes it is because Janice wishes to play the lead in a Mexican film for which Ortega is negotiating with Myberg, the famous movie executive. Frank's explorer's instinct tells him that his hunch is right, also that a vulturing profiteer he saw peering through the window of Myberg's office has a connection with the mystery. He finds that Janice has disappeared suddenly; as he and Spin, with Greene, Janice's publicity man, question the maid, Myberg enters.

Chapter Eight

Myberg's obdurate eyes flickered. Their glance interrupted Greene as a blow would have.

"Greene," said his chief executive of the Consolidated, "this is not one of your monkeyshines?"

Greene opened his mouth to protest. Winslow waved him to silence. "I think it's on the level, Mr. Myberg," Grahame noted that Winslow's—the scoffer's—voice held a tinge of respect. Whether it was for consideration of the seriousness of the situation or for Myberg, he could not tell.

The newcomer asked to be told what had happened and what they knew.

He listened, frowning at the carpet. There was something Napoleonic about his posture; yet, too, something that derided the comparison. Finally, without looking up, he asked, "Who is this man?"

"Frank Grahame."

"Oh, the jungle man, eh?" Grahame was favored with a swift glance. "You get people out of trouble, eh?" All right. You get Janice out of this jam she is in now in, and I hire you. I hire you for the new picture. I pay you—

He pursed his lips and stared at the ceiling. He took out a small notebook and tore a sheet from it. Carefully he uncapped his fountain pen and scribbled something on the paper. He handed it to Grahame.

Grahame with some astonishment took the paper. He glanced at it.

"The salary seems sufficient," he said somewhat stiffly. "But does this seem the time to—"

"Any time is all right to talk business," said the man in black. He straightened his shoulders. "You call up that fellow Ortega, and ask him what he knows. He has ants. I know when a man has ants. He looked cryptically upon the three men and the woman, and turned through the door. He called over his shoulder:

"Grahame... That figure on the paper is for the week, not the month." He disappeared through the doorway.

Grahame glanced again at the paper he held in his hand. He hissed a soft whistle through his lips.

"And I thought it was for the year," he said. He laughed with a trace of uncertainty. "I can't figure him. The man's a nut... or a fool."

Winslow smiled faintly. "You don't know him, Frank. He may be a nut... perhaps... but nobody ever proved him a fool. You're lucky. He likes you. And—"

Grahame gestured impatiently. He crumpled the paper he held in his hand and tossed it toward the waste-paper basket. "He said call up Ortega. Good idea. Know his number?"

"I don't," said Winslow. He stared blankly toward the girl, Paula. "But she does."

"No..." began the maid.

"Call him up," snapped Winslow. Paula went suddenly to the phone on the night-stand next to the bed.

As he entered Winslow slammed the receiver on its stand. His eyes glittered as he arose to face Grahame.

"The cab drove out to Central airport. Just Ortega—nobody else. However..." His stare sought out Paula, who sat with expressionless face, upon the chaise longue. "However, they have a record of the number he called from the lobby. He called this house, Paula... what did he say?"

The girl looked up defiantly. "He asked if Miss Kent was in."

"That all?"

"That was all."

"Didn't ask to speak with her?"

"No." She snapped petulantly. "That was all, I tell you."

Winslow caught her by the arm. He gritted. "By God, you will tell me; Or I'll have you down at the Hollywood station in ten minutes—whatever notoriety it may mean for Kent." He shook her arm. "Come through! Why did he want to know if she were in? Why—Tell me! Has Ortega been giving you money?"

There was fright in the girl's eyes, although her voice was sullen when she answered. "I don't know what you mean."

"Yes you do!" He reached down his other hand, caught her shoulder and lifted her to her feet.

Grahame remonstrated. "Spin," he began. "Don't—"

"I'll handle this. I have a way with women!" He sneered half contemptuously. "She'll tell us next that she sensed a romance and was helping true love along. But she's getting paid for it... weren't you?" He shook her shoulders.

"Yes," she replied. "He is in love with her."

Winslow laughed grimly. "What did I tell you, Frank? She's an incurable romanticist! But she was getting paid for it. You know that Ortega... had someone come here to get Janice—whether she wanted to go or whether she didn't."

He looked at the broken powder jar on the floor. "I don't think she wanted to go, Paula... do you know that abduction is a crime? That the police can, and will, put you away for a long, long time if they find out that you've taken money to assist in a kidnapping?"

Start talking!

Her face was a little white; her lips trembled. She drew in a fluttering breath. "I didn't know!" she said breathlessly. "Don't Raoul—he is a countryman of mine—said that Miss Kent had promised to marry him. But that she wouldn't because of her contract with the Consolidated. They'd break her contract if she married. He is rich. He does not care for her contract. So—"

Winslow interrupted with a harsh laugh—"so never mind the rest. Where was he going to take her? Dye know?"

Paula's face was drawn with misgiving. She answered. "I don't know. Mexico, I guess. Do you think I will be arrested?"

"I hope so," replied Winslow cautiously. "You better do a little praying that she gets back all right. Greene... you stick around here in case a call comes in. I can't figure this racket. Frank and I are going out to Central airport."

Hookstown Men Have Prize Corn Exhibit

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of fluid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25-cent drug stores. ©1931 C. M. Co.

Your Health

By Dr. R. S. Copeland.

In my mail the other day I had a pathetic letter from a frantic mother who anxiously inquired about "rat bite fever." She wanted to know if it is a serious disease. Her young child, aged two and a half years, had recently been bitten by a rat. He was seriously ill in a hospital.

I hastened to assure the worried mother that her child would undoubtedly recover from his ailment. Though rat bite fever is a strange and alarming disease, it is rarely, if ever, fatal.

The disease is caused, of course, by the bite of a rat. Several cases recently reported were traced to the bites of other animals, such as the cat, field mouse, weasel, dog and even the pig. It is a common disease in Japan and China, but is less frequently seen in this country. It is only found where rats are unusually common and the public hygiene is poor.

As a rule, the first sign of the disease does not appear until several weeks after the bite. The original wound heals and after a period it becomes inflamed and swollen. Following this, there is a sudden chill and then a fever. After a few days of fever the temperature falls to normal. After a period of a few days during which the patient has no complaint, the fever returns.

Recurrent Attacks

The fever may disappear again, but soon recurs and such periodic attacks are repeated for several weeks. Of course, there are other signs, such as nausea, irritability, restlessness, and severe pains in the muscles and joints. In adults, the fever may lead to delirium. As a rule, the young victim has serious digestive disturbances which greatly weaken the sufferer and lead to a marked condition of undernourishment.

For many years, little was known concerning this disease. But the cause of the strange malady is now known. It is caused by a microscopic germ called the "spirochaeta morsus moris." These germs are found in the blood of the rat and by the bite are transmitted to the victim.

The disease can be prevented by prompt application to the wound of carbolic or nitric acid. Never delay this preventive measure. When the wound has not been cauterized and symptoms of the disease are present, relief can be obtained by the injection of "salvarsan." Of course, this treatment can only be given under the supervision of a physician.

I believe that too little attention is given to the menace of rats. Besides the economic waste they cause, they are carriers of filth and disease. Complete extermination of these pests leads to improved hygiene and better health for every community.
